Jessica Green is the Atlantic Director for the Canadian Therapeutic Recreation Association. Jessica graduated from Dalhousie University in 2016 with a BSc in Therapeutic Recreation. After graduation, Jessica successfully passed the National Council for Therapeutic Recreation Certification (NCTRC) Exam, giving her CTRS status. Since then, Jessica has worked both as a Therapeutic Recreation Worker and as a Recreation Development Specialist in various settings such as Long Term Care, Restorative Care and Mental Health. Jessica is currently working as a Recreation Development Specialist at the Carmelite House, a long term care facility in Grand Falls-Windsor, NL. In 2017, Jessica accepted a short term position on the 2017 Conference Planning Committee with the Newfoundland Therapeutic Recreation Association (NLTRA). Outside of work, Jessica remains very busy in her leisure activities such as playing on her sports teams such as softball, ball hockey, ice hockey and broomball), spending time with family and friends, kayaking, riding her motorcycle in the summer months and her ski-doo in the winter months and spending time at the cabin, just to name a few.
